GLEANER

FALL 1957

BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA

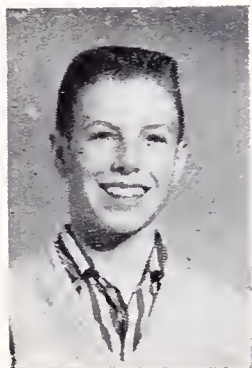

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The fall term of 1957 has been a very busy one for the student body. The enthusiasm of the graduating class has been in a large measure responsible for a successful semester. Our participating wholeheartedly in many philanthropic community enterprises is always very gratifying. Our support of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Campership project, Community Chest, Community Christmas gifts and Junior Red Cross rounds out a full and satisfactory program.

During the semester we have also maintained a high scholastic standing in the school, which is, of course, extremely important.

We wish for all of you a very pleasant and successful high school experience.

A. C. BAXTER, Principal

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

During our three years at Garfield we, the graduating class of Fall, 1958, have learned many new things and have made many new friends. We all would like to express our thanks for the help and guidance from Mr. Baxter and the faculty. We shall always remember our years at Garfield.

NAME	HOBBIES	SECRET AMBITION	PET PEEVE
MRS. ADAMS	Swimming, tennis, hiking, playing the bazooka.	I'll never tell.	People who honk a split second after the signal has changed.
MISS ALMY	Travel, music, art, comedians, you.	It's still a secret.	Anything below a "B" on your report cards.
MRS. ANDERSON	Art, gardening, my nieces and nephew.	Ambitions too numerous to mention.	Guess!!!
MRS. ANGEL	Sports of all kinds, especially dancing and swimming.	To be 5'5".	Girls who ask daily, "Do we have to take showers?"
MR. BAXTER	Gardening, golf, sports.	To see all Garfield graduates get A's at high school.	Litterbugs.
MISS BECKWITH	Giving tests.	To travel around the world.	People who do not do their homework and then say, "You give us too much work."
MR. BERG	Teasing.	Make up a test all the students can pass.	Naughty children.
MR. BLANCHARD	Building things.	To retire some day.	People who don't take care of the things they use.
MR. BOEHMERT	Photography, coaching Babe Ruth baseball team.	None.	None.
MRS. BOWER	Foreign cooking, and unusual dishes and foods.	To invent a pill that will enable students to spell correctly.	My dog, when she barks at 3 a.m.
MISS BRUBAKER	Camping, gardening, reading.	To twiddle my thumbs.	The word "deal" as commonly used.
MRS. BYRNE	Music, tennis, sewing.	To organize the first choral society on the moon.	The singer who keeps his lips so close together that only a tiny bit of music can sneak out.
MR. CARLSTAD	Everything — well — almost everything.	To beat H-9 in volleyball and to go to the moon.	Papers without names.
MRS. CHOISSE	Gardening and fishing.	To own a new Thunderbird.	Wearing a name card at a meeting.
MISS COLLAR	Fun.	To have one.	None.
MR. CORINA	Photography, music, art.	If I told, it would no longer be a secret.	Bill Angle.
MR. CORLEY	Hunting, fishing.	To hunt and fish better.	Too many hunters and fishermen.
MR. CURREN	Reading, collecting animals, amateur astronomy.	To be a news or science commentator on TV.	Students who think they are the only ones in the class.
MRS. CURTICE	Gardening, camping.	To go on trip to the moon.	Students who always have alibis!
MRS. DALEY	Reading, dancing, tennis.	To see all my students make A's.	Lazy students.
MRS. DAVIS	Swimming.	To travel more.	Girls who ask every day, "Do we have to dress?"
MR. DUNKUM	Hunting, fishing, teaching English.	To hunt in Alaska and to teach someone some English.	Some English students.
MR. GALBRAITH	Traveling around the world on a luxury liner.	To write the great American novel.	Eggplant.
MR. GAROFALO	Square dancing, science fiction, fencing, writing.	To be the first man on the moon.	Students who worry about grades.
MR. GOMEZ	Sports.	To beat the H9's in volleyball and basketball.	H-9's that beat the faculty.
MRS. GOODE	Correcting homework.	To fly to the moon in an American Sputnik.	Noise.
MRS. GREEN	Gardening.	To be a veterinarian.	Interruptions.
MR. GREMAUX	Knitting night caps for duck hunters.	To become a ballet dancer.	Elvis Presley.
MRS. HANLIN	Making classes learn "silly" poems.	To keep a class so late after school that everyone misses the bus.	Pupils who won't let me do all the talking.
MR. HAWKINS	Fishing and prowling old roads, old houses, and ghost towns.	To die of old age (real old) so I can do all of the things I have planned.	Public officials who seem to believe that if you tell the same lie enough it becomes the truth.
MRS. HUNTER	Books, movies, and swimming.	To teach Latin without a Southern accent.	Noisy and restless students.

NAME	HOBBIES	SECRET AMBITION	PET PEEVE
MRS. JAMESON	Writing (and sometimes selling) articles and poetry.	To witness a whole day when every pupil in the school will do everything just right, and I won't have to anything about conduct but admire them all.	Smart pupils who do not work.
MR. JEWETT	Woodturning.	To have 12 children.	People who have long hair.
MR. KILPATRICK	Working on my hi-fi set and water skiing.	To look older than Mr. Curren some day.	Inconsiderate students.
MRS. KRESSMANN	Collecting vocal records and playing the pipe organ.	To inherit a million dollars and move to a South Sea island.	All of the people who don't love music as much as I do.
MISS LAURENS	Travel across S.F. Bay Bridge.	To own a circus.	Flying saucers.
MR. LEWIS	Cooking.	To be a Jr. High School student.	People who say, "I just lost my paper."
MRS. LUDOLPH	Reading, our cat named Linus for the character in "Peanuts," music, and Little Theater work.	To get a life-sized guillotine as a Tale of Two Cities project — so I can use it on my students!	People who say, "I laid down for a nap," instead of "I lay down for a nap," or (referring to correct English) "It doesn't sound right!"
MRS. LUKE	Opera, swimming, skiing, and failing students.	To give Mr. Van a "Toni."	Students who say, "I couldn't do my homework because —"
MRS. MACHEK	Reading murder mysteries, buying dress fabrics, sewing, gardening, and window shopping.	To be young, thin, and beautiful.	Bungalows with weak floors, and sewing machines that don't work.
MISS MAGNUSON	Music, travel, cooking, and money.	To play the tuba down in Cuba.	People who play the right note at the wrong time.
MRS. McCLELLAND	Collecting records, plays, and green stamps.	To go "around the world in eighty days."	My third period L-9 study hall.
MRS. McCURDY	Monkeys and all animals, the Berkeley Humane Society, and antiques.	To find wild monkeys.	Students who are discourteous and who refer to their teachers by their last names only.
MRS. MONTAGNE	Travel in foreign lands.
MRS. NIEDERHOLZER	People.	To have enough time to do what I want to do.	People who don't smile.
MRS. OLSON	Music, sewing, cooking, reading, gardening, interior decoration.	To plan or design a "dream" house and build it!	People who talk about their food dislikes.
MR. PEARL	Collecting items for still life works, mainly early California items, western theme. Making jewelry, enjoying my holidays, collecting native trees, shrubs and plants.	To have a Ninth Grade class of "all" interested and talented students.	Abuse of equipment, someone else speaking when I am, back talk.
MR. PETERSON	Football, baseball, music, and drama.	To develop a grammar text which when looked at, will automatically transfer information between its covers to the individual during the looking.	Gum chewing, papers with no names on them.
MR. PHILLIPS	Gardening, fishing.	Too old for any.	Too old for any.
MR. ROBERTS	I can't tell!	To have a good gym class!	Students!
MR. SAUERS	Electronics, mechanical interests, music, and bowling.	To travel around the world.	My pet peeves are people who do not take care of their pets.
MR. SAYRE	Reading.	To visit the moon.	Baby Babyshakas.
MR. SCHRATTER	History, literature, music, the outdoors.	A "Noiseless" class.	A student who stays awake all night plotting how to "put one over" on the teacher.
MRS. SHRIVER	Collecting a few English antiques and English silver.	To forget prices.	I have none that are interesting.
MRS. STEINKAMP	Bowling, cats, fish, knitting, painting, and golf.	????	????
MR. SUSTARIC	Mountain climbing, skiing, bicycling, writing, traveling, grafting (trees), and plant experiments, stamps, records, painting (art, not the household), and reading.	To write a historical novel.
MISS TAYLOR	Puppets, theater in any form.	To put on a play on stage in which all the cast win great acclaim.	Car drivers that cut across in front of you from the wrong lane.
MISS THOMSON	Dreaming up "compositions" for the H-9's.	To return tests on Thursday.	Other women drivers!
MR. VAN MATRE	Raising cockers, stamp collecting.	To tour the world in a sailboat.	Students with ability and not willing to work.
MR. WEISS	Vocal music and low-fi (listening), and vegetable gardening.	To someday meet "Rex," the police dog that serves with the six-man Lichtenstein (in Europe) Police Force.	Drivers who have passed their vehicle code test, but somehow have totally forgotten hand or automatic indicator signals.
MR. WINTERHOLLER	Water sports.	To let out a bellow in the public library.	Teachers.
MRS. WOBKEN	You.	To find Time.

A collage of 20 black and white photographs capturing various student performances and activities. The images are arranged in a grid-like fashion, showing students in different costumes and settings. Some students are singing into microphones, others are playing instruments like a piano or guitar, and many are posing in elaborate or themed outfits. The background of most photos appears to be a stage or a simple backdrop. The overall theme is student entertainment and performance.
